1. The preliminary amendment filed on June 26, 2003 has been entered.
2. Claims 1-20 are rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

These claims are replete with language for which its intended meaning is not understood. For example: claim 1, line 2 "specifically a sectional door", line 3 "being formed essentially in a concave or convex manner", line 4 "in order to form", line 5 "being positioned essentially", lines 7-8 "in such a way"; claim 2, line 2 "is in the form"; claim 6, line 2 "in such a way"; claim 19, line 2 "in such a way"; claim 20, line 2 "in such a way".

These claims are replete with terminology for which there is no antecedent basis. For example: claim 1, lines 5-6 "the midpoint of the curve"; claim 6, line 2 "the end edge of the protruding surface", line 3 "the concave edge"; claim 19, line 2 "the end edge of the protruding surface of the L-profile", line 3 "the concave edge"; claim 20, line 2 "the end edge of the protruding surface", line 3 "the concave edge"; claims 4,5,7,9,12,14,16 each of which recite "the L-profiles".

These claims are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3634

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Ford et al. Ford et al disclose the claimed sectional door including segments 12,14 having grooved recesses 68, and hinges 16,18,20 having L-profiled arms 70,72,62,64,48,50.

4. Attention is directed to the following prior art which is considered pertinent to the applicant's claimed device: Pedersen, Katulski, Halliwell, Hormann '114 and '666, Druzynski et al, Wagner, Siess '265 and '737.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to David M Purol at telephone number 703/308-2168.
